If a course has pretesting and it is on,
students must complete all tests and the exam on campus, on a monitored computer, and must also turn in their phones prior to taking tests or the exam.

If a student does not score more than an 80% on a test when pretesting is on, they must take the entire section. If a student still needs an additional retake on a test or quiz, they must show their written notes for the retake section.

If pretesting is off,

If a student fails a test without pretesting, they must submit their notes to the instructor prior to additional retakes being granted.

Phone/online music use:

Students who are ahead in their class often demonstrate the ability to multi-task and therefore may listen to music from their personal device. Students who are behind in their class may not have their phone out during class, nor may they listen to online music during class.

IMPORTANT: Exams are one-shot only (just like regular courses) if taken on the last day. Please study and determine with your instructor if notes are permitted on the exams.

Quiz re-takes: not granted unless you have at least one page of written notes
TEST RE-TAKES: not granted unless you have at least two pages of written notes
